Invites UK Faculty to an

Investigator Connection Event

12pm - 3pm, Friday, Nov. 15, HKRB 150

Join us for lunch and an event designed to facilitate research collaborations among faculty members interested in health services research and implementation science. Investigators will break out into small groups corresponding to their interests (e.g., access and outcomes, implementation science, and health policy).

The Investigator Connection event is in advance of a soon to be released CHSR pilot grant program to promote health services research and implementation science. The maximum budget allowed for a pilot study award will be $25,000. Applicants are encouraged to attend the event, but they are not required to attend in order to apply to the pilot study program.
